Re: Concurrent Representation of Adjacent GSAs
Our File No.: 039287-000002

Dear Mr. Vidovich and Ms. Jackson:

As you know, this firm represents both the Tri-County Water Authority GSA ("TCWA") and the Southwest Kings GSA ("SWK"), each agency overseeing jurisdictional boundaries that lie in close proximity to one another under authority granted to each by SGMA.

Although no current issue exists with respect to the operation of these two GSAs under SGMA, contested or otherwise, my ethical obligations require that I, on behalf of McCormick Barstow, seek the informed written consent to this dual representation by both agencies.

Specifically, while this firm does not believe that our representation of TCWA will in any way affect our loyalty to SWK or our ability to make independent and objective legal decisions in representing SWK, the Rules of Professional Conduct of the State Bar of California require that we disclose to both agencies and obtain each Board's written and informed consent in the course of providing legal representation. Rule 1.7(a) and (d) specifically state:

> "(a) A lawyer shall not, without informed written consent from each client and compliance with paragraph (d), represent a client if the representation is directly adverse to another client in the same or a separate matter.
> "(d) Representation is permitted under this rule only if the lawyer complies with paragraphs (a), (b), and (c), and:
> (1) the lawyer reasonably believes that the lawyer will be able to provide competent and diligent representation to each affected client;
> (2) the representation is not prohibited by law; and
> (3) the representation does not involve the assertion of a claim by one client against another client represented by the lawyer in the same litigation or other proceeding before a tribunal."

McCORMICK
BARSTOW LLP
ATTORNEYS AT LAW

The purpose of this letter, therefore, is to simply disclose to you the potential consequences of our representing both GSAs, and to obtain the consent of SWK's Board to proceed with representation of TCWA.

As stated, it is our opinion that our representation of TCWA will in no way affect our ability to exercise independent judgment in our representation of SWK's interests. The two agencies, although geographically adjacent, do not appear to face any material disputes that might arise with respect to one another.

It is up to the Board of TCWA to determine whether the firm's representation of TCWA would interfere with this firm's representation of SWK. As noted, I perceive no division in our loyalty to SWK and believe that this firm is able to represent its interests, but the decision for this firm to continue its representation of both GSAs remains the decision of the respective agency's Boards.

Should you have any questions regarding this letter, I would advise you to consult independent legal counsel before making a decision.

Sincerely yours,

Jason O. Howard
McCormick Barstow LLP

CONSENT

Jason O. Howard has explained to the Board of SWK that there exist potential conflicting interests in the above-described concurrent representation, has informed said body of the provisions of Rule 1.7(a) and (d) as quoted above, and has informed said body of the possible consequences of these conflicts. On behalf of the Board of SWK, I acknowledge that the Board has the right, and has been encouraged, to consult independent counsel before I sign this consent. Nevertheless, I, on behalf of the Board after a vote duly called and taken, state TCWA's desire for continued representation by McCormick Barstow notwithstanding these potential conflicts and, therefore, consent and give approval for McCormick Bartow's concurrent representation SWK and TCWA.

Water Blueprint

for the San Joaquin Valley

The Water Blueprint for the San Joaquin Valley serves as the united voice to champion solutions to maximize accessible, affordable, and reliable water supplies for sustainable and productive farms and ranches, healthy communities, and thriving ecosystems in the San Joaquin Valley. It is a growing coalition of community leaders, local government, non-governmental organizations, water agencies, farmers, commodity groups, and industry.

Like the Governor's water resilience portfolio, the Blueprint objectives embrace a broad, diversified approach that grows and diversifies water supplies, protects and enhances natural ecosystems, builds connections to improve water conveyance, all occurring within a framework that is resilient to climate change and more extreme hydrologic cycles. The essence of the Blueprint plan is simple – divert a portion of the significant quantities of surplus wet-year water to groundwater storage for use in dry years. That simple principle protects against sustained droughts, provides enduring supplies for local communities, and does not stress further the Delta ecosystem in dry years. It is feasible, practical and economical. The implementation of that plan requires the following near-term investments in infrastructure:

- Interregional Water Planning: $10 million
  - $5 million to continue collaborative regional planning to ensure the development of a widely supported, multi-benefit water plan for the Valley.
  - $5 million for studies and pilot projects to identify the best methods for diverting surplus flood water from the Delta.
- Conveyance: $835 million
  - $585 million to the Department of Water Resources for grants for Central Valley conveyance facilities impacted by subsidence.
  - $250 million to DWR for competitive grants to support local and regional water conveyance projects.
- Regional Resilience and Sustainability: $1.5 billion
  - Throughout the San Joaquin Valley, 150 projects have been identified in groundwater sustainability plans to expedite groundwater sustainability, capture local storm water, increase groundwater recharge, incentivize water recycling, and build resilience.
- Multi-Benefit Land Repurposing: $1 billion
  - $1 billion to GSAs to acquire and repurpose lands contributing to subsidence that affects infrastructure such as canals and drinking water wells, and to land trusts and other NGOs to acquire land for ecosystem restoration, including floodplain restoration, consistent with the ecosystem Vision for the San Joaquin Valley.

Strategic investments are essential for mitigating the effects of future droughts.

Water Blueprint

for the San Joaquin Valley

We are pleased to share some information about a group that is seeking to highlight one of the San Joaquin Valley's greatest challenges, California regulation and water policy, while advancing a pragmatic solution set and convening a thoughtful dialogue with a diverse and collaborative group of stakeholders.

The Water Blueprint for the San Joaquin Valley (the "Blueprint") is supported by a broad coalition of water users that are continuing to seek input from all stakeholders including local governments, public water agencies, agriculture industry representatives, disadvantaged communities, environmental organizations, academia, and others.

Over the past year the Blueprint has accomplished the following:

Created a more robust mission, vision and goals for the organization through a strategy session to lead Blueprint:

- Mission – Unifying the San Joaquin Valley's voice to advance an accessible, reliable solution for a balanced water future for all
- Vision – The Water Blueprint serves as the united voice to champion water resource policies and projects to maximize accessible, affordable, and reliable supplies for sustainable and productive farms and ranches, healthy communities, and thriving ecosystems in the San Joaquin Valley.

Reorganized the association and established a formal board of directors with an approved set of bylaws to help facilitate order and governance.

Executed a letter to Governor Newsom outlining near term investment projects that Water Blueprint supports to help in drought response.

Conducted meaningful discussions related to California water policy with environmental organization leaders and disadvantaged community groups.

In coordination with water organizations and agencies from the Central Valley, Northern California and Southern California, a letter was sent to Governor Newsom and California Legislature calling for more drought and flood investment.

Highlighted the impending calamity facing the San Joaquin Valley through communications with the Governor's office, state and federal Cabinet Secretaries, agency heads, key legislators, and other policymakers.

In collaboration with congressmen Jim Costa and Josh Harder, the Blueprint assisted in curating a letter sent to the U.S Department of the Interior and U.S. Bureau of Reclamation on behalf of Costa and Harder. The letter listed projects that should be prioritized by the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act.

Water Blueprint
for the San Joaquin Valley

The primary purpose of the Blueprint is to highlight the impacts of California regulation and water policy while advancing balanced solutions. The Blueprint's success will require several activities to be executed in a coordinated fashion over the next 20 years. The next phases of activities will require planning and engineering services to support the development, evaluation, and selection of activities that will be pursued, including:

Supporting efforts to develop safe, clean, affordable water supplies for disadvantaged communities.

Developing an environmental plan to manage land use changes for agricultural lands that unavoidably must come out of production.

Assisting Groundwater Sustainability Agencies within the San Joaquin Valley with implementation of SGMA and their Groundwater Sustainability Plans.

Developing a water supply plan that includes recharge and infrastructure investments aimed at minimizing the loss of productive agricultural lands and addressing socio-economic impacts to communities who experience those losses.
